Islamabad : Team Engagement

At times initiatives look small but the outcome they generate is huge. With this thought in mind, the Islamabad branch team conducted a team engagement activity at Rawal Lake for its Supplier Officers in order to celebrate the combined successes and rejuvenate the team spirit for other upcoming initiatives

“The man who removes a mountain begins by carrying away the small stones”

Team Cricket Match because competition is what we like!

We may all have come in different boats but we are in the same boat now

Our
Top SR

Haris Baig had to say this about himself

Setting goals

- I ensure to do thorough order bookings
- I aim to convert TDP into Golden Stores
- I make addressing customers problems a big priority even if it takes my time

Motivation

- I promised my seniors growth for the month of April
- We have a new supervisor who was talking about numbers at his previous organization in the daily morning meeting so I took it up as a challenge to work hard and achieve my targets and numbers because I believe hard work and honesty pays off

Advice

“Work with emaandari, and Allah makes the rest easy accompanied by your parent’s prayers”

Business as usual

- I deliver proper execution for each shop with the intent of sales growth
- I remind myself of customer first even in times of frustration
- I believe in working with emandaari the rest God helps me in life.

WHAT IS Islamabad MM Team about?

It is... where alone we can do so little and together we can do so much

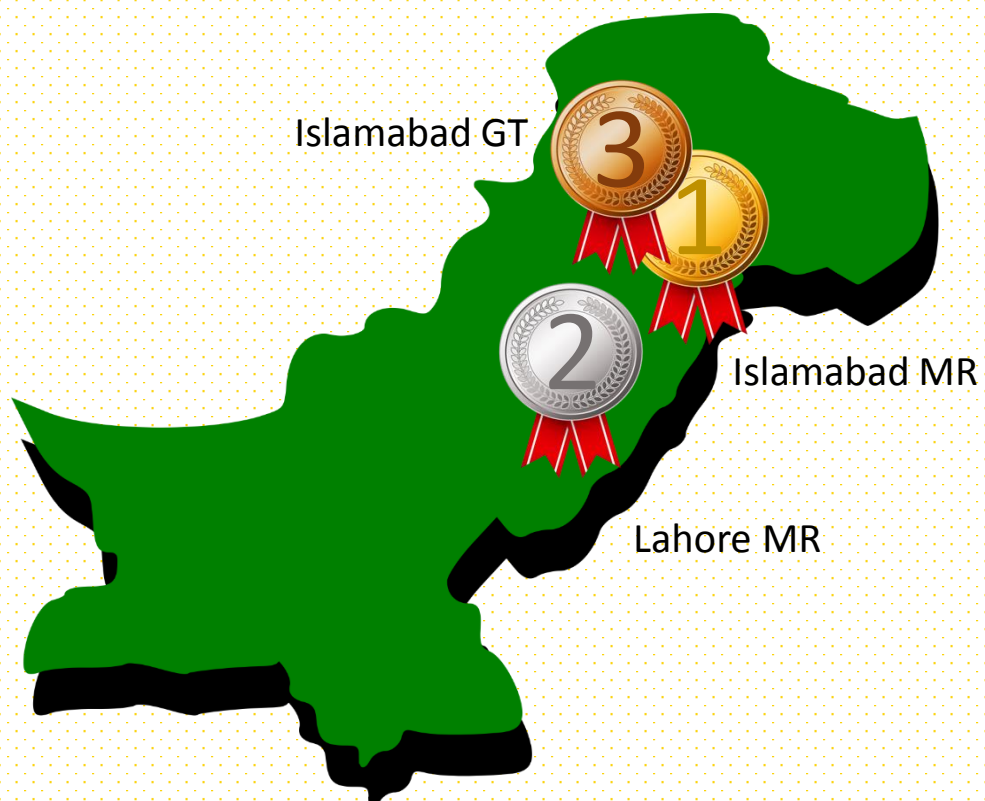

It is... where each and every team member applies his/her ability to work together toward a common vision

It is... where individual accomplishment is directed towards organizational objectives

It is... where teamwork acts as a fuel that allows common people to obtain uncommon results

THIS is IMM.

Muniba Mazari

UN Goodwill Ambassador

This is the time to tell our sons that strength has no gender. Emotions have no gender.

Muniba Mazari was recently named Pakistan's first female goodwill ambassador by UN Women – the United Nations entity for gender equality and the empowerment of women. Muniba Mazari is a writer, artist, singer, activist and a motivational speaker. She is also a paraplegic, who lost control of both legs in a car accident. In spite of her apparent immobility, Muniba has faced life's reality positively and is a part of Toni and Guy's wheel chair modelling campaign. She is also the brand ambassador for the Body Shop Pakistan and Pond's miracle woman.

As the goodwill ambassador for UN Women Pakistan Charter, Muniba is tasked with dedicating her efforts towards the empowerment of women and girls, and serving as an advocate for UN Women's "Planet 50-50 by 2030: Step It Up for Gender Equality" among other campaigns.

Muniba began painting while recovering when she was at the Agha Khan Hospital. She remembers being bandaged all over and could barely move her hands but painted because it distracted her. Now an avid painter, through her vibrant paintings, she expresses in bold colours the strength of her own personality. She hopes to inspire others to live their lives to the fullest. Today, she works at a school for underprivileged children. Her aim is to find donors and philanthropists who would fund the school so that more children may be enrolled.

When asked whether she feels resentful about the accident which left her handicapped for life, she responds by reliving the incident. "When the car started going into a ditch, I knew this was the end of my life. When I gained consciousness I was reciting the kalma and thinking I have been given a new life. Half of my body was fractured and the rest was paralyzed. I neither complain nor blame anyone. I believe it was destined to happen. I was 20 years old at the time and had not done anything special in my life. Today, I know where I am going and my life is important to me."
